Summary of findings

Overall summary

Staley House Care Home is a residential care home providing accommodation and personal care for up to 27 older people. At the time of the inspection there were 23 people using the service.

We found the following examples of good practice.

The provider was following best practice guidance in terms of ensuring visitors to the home did not spread COVID-19. Staff were adhering to personal protective equipment (PPE) guidance and practices, and there was a space for staff to change before and after their shift.

Communal areas were well spaced and people, with support from staff were encouraged to maintain social distancing. Clear plans were in place for those who were required to self-isolate. For those people who struggled with isolation additional support was provided.

The provider had created a safe and dedicated visiting area to allow people to see and speak to their friends and relatives in line with the latest government guidance. The room was well-ventilated and cleaned between visitors.

Staff continued to support people to access healthcare, and arrangements were in place should people need to attend hospital safely.

Detailed findings

Background to this inspection

We carried out this inspection under Section 60 of the Health and Social Care Act 2008 as part of our regulatory functions. This inspection was planned to check whether the provider is meeting the legal requirements and regulations associated with the Health and Social Care Act 2008.

As part of CQC's response to the coronavirus pandemic we are looking at the preparedness of care homes in relation to infection prevention and control. This was a targeted inspection looking at the infection control and prevention measures the provider has in place.

This inspection took place on 15 April 2021 and was announced.
