Summary of findings

Overall summary

Meadow Lodge is a residential care home providing personal care to 14 people aged 65 and over at the time of the inspection. The service can support up to 15 people.

We found the following examples of good practice.

Meadow Lodge ensured current government guidelines in relation to COVID-19 were being followed by staff and visitors to reduce the risk of infection to people living at the home. This included comprehensive checks for visitors and staff on arrival to the home.

People living at Meadow Lodge and staff were supported to receive COVID-19 vaccinations and boosters at the care home. Detailed information on vaccinations was made available to people who lived there and staff which included easy read information.

Meadow Lodge felt well supported by stakeholders and had good links with their GP practice staff.

Meadow Lodge supported people who lived there to remain connected with friends and relatives through visits, video calls, phone calls and letters.

Detailed findings

Background to this inspection

We carried out this inspection under Section 60 of the Health and Social Care Act 2008 as part of our regulatory functions. This inspection was planned to check whether the provider is meeting the legal requirements and regulations associated with the Health and Social Care Act 2008.

As part of CQC's response to the COVID-19 pandemic we are looking at how services manage infection control and visiting arrangements. This was a targeted inspection looking at the infection prevention and control measures the provider had in place. We also asked the provider about any staffing pressures the service was experiencing and whether this was having an impact on the service.

This inspection took place on 11 January 2022 and was announced. We gave the service 24 hours' notice of the inspection.
